

WOMEN'S FICTION

Ahern, Cecilia. Lyrebird. Deep in the heart of Ireland a solitary young woman with an incredible talent for mimicry is discovered by a documentary film crew and thrust into the international spotlight.

Cabot, Meg. The Boy is Back. Famed golfer Russell gets blindsided by an Internet posting that causes his family to become the center of an embarrassing scandal. The only way to help his family cope is to return to his small Indiana hometown to smooth things over while avoiding the woman who broke his heart the decade before.

Dixon, Dianne. The Other Sister. Morgan resents the perfect life of her twin sister, Ali, so much that she dismisses her from her life. What follows is a dangerous series of events that ends with a shocking crime and the realization that family can have the power to save or destroy us.

Fielding, Helen. Bridget Jones's Baby. America's favorite Brit returns with a baby on the way, but is the father the dashing Darcy or the handsome American Jack Qwant?

Graham, Lauren. Someday, Someday, Maybe. Franny Banks has six months left on her self-imposed three-year deadline to make it as an actress in New York City. Between a demeaning waitressing job and trying out for peanut butter commercials, it's difficult to predict what will run out first: time or money.

Green, Jane. Falling. Emma Montague moved across the pond to live and work in New York, but the frenetic pace and cutthroat world of finance leave her burnt out and unfulfilled. Moving to a place where she knows no one, Emma finds connection with others and the strength to deal with her problems.

Hilderbrand, Elin. Here's to Us. As the ex-wives of celebrity chef Deacon Thorpe, Laurel Thorpe, Belinda Rowe, and Scarlett Oliver all agree to avoid each other at all costs. When Deacon tragically and unexpectedly passes away these three women must put aside their differences and come together for one weekend to say goodbye to the man they all loved.

Lancaster, Jen. *By the Numbers. Penny Sinclair is ready to sell her beautiful Victorian house and move on to the next chapter of her life. Before the deal has a chance to close, her house is full again with family that need more than a place to stay: her parents, her grown children and her cheating ex-husband.

McCall Smith, Alexander. *Chance Developments. Five anonymous photographs inspired this moving collection of short stories that explore the randomness of life and the power of love and compassion.

Miller, Louise. *The City Baker's Guide to Country Living. Boston pastry chef Olivia Rawlings reluctantly finds herself in the Vermont countryside after a major professional faux pas. As secrets from her painful past come to light, Olivia must decide whether to face her demons or leave the place that has come to feel like home.

Moriarty, Liane. *The Husband's Secret. Cecilia Fitzpatrick uncovers a web of lies, secrets and betrayals in her marriage after accidentally reading a letter from her husband meant to be opened only after his death.

Picoult, Jodi. *Small Great Things. Experienced nurse Ruth Jefferson is shocked and saddened when she must stop a routine checkup on a baby due to the color of the baby's skin. When she is alone in the hospital nursery and the baby goes into cardiac arrest, Ruth's hesitation to perform CPR results in her being charged with a serious crime.

Sullivan, J. Courtney. *Maine. In a hand-built cottage on a beachfront in Maine three generations of Kelleher women gather one summer. Despite the family's tragedy and pain, these formidable women find that while families aren't always perfect, it is incredibly difficult to live without them.

Weisberger, Laura. *The Singles Game. After a serious injury and devastating loss at Wimbledon, tennis pro Charlotte Silver hires a male coach determined to shatter her good girl image both on and off the court. An authentic look at the women's pro tennis circuit where how you look is just as important as how well you play.